*The above framework is broadly indicative and the fund manager may change the framework depending on the market conditions

Why Axis Value Fund?

• Valuations:

- Look for companies trading at lower multiples in their industries
- Look for management turn around, sector dynamics shifts

• Fundamentals based:

- Opportunity to advance ROE during cycles
- Potential for earnings growth in the long run
- Optimal levered
- Avoid highly levered companies within a sector or sectors
- Avoid value traps

• Medium to long term focus:

- Create wealth through multiples re rating and playing cycles

• Integrated risk management:

- Focus on portfolio Risk and its effective management

• Strong Management:

- Execution capability
- Good governance

Fund Manager's view

- Axis's approach to value investing will continue to look at companies with strong fundamentals at a reasonable valuation. Such companies will continue to grow as India continues to be one of the fastest growing major economies, underpinned by proactive policy measures and strengthening domestic fundamentals.
- Within capital goods, we believe power T&D and defence will continue to benefit from government policies. EMS offers a long-term opportunity as a potential beneficiary of shift in global supply chain. Auto sector may benefit from GST rates rationalisation. We also anticipate continuation of premiumization trend, supported by a pickup in the replacement cycle. Financial sector is poised to benefit from anticipated revival in credit demand amid lower rates and improved liquidity conditions. We are also overweight on healthcare.
- Valuations have moderated from their peaks. Importantly, India's valuation premium over emerging markets and global peers has narrowed considerably and appears to have stabilized.
- Investors should be mindful of the volatility seen in the mid and small caps. This segment has more representation of B2B companies having exposure to investment and exports part of economy.
