Investment Strategy

Domestic stocks are selected in the portfolio based on:

- Innovative & entrepreneurial companies with experienced management
- Market leaders in emerging industries or higher growth companies in established businesses

The Overseas allocation is based on advice from Schroders Investment Management and follows a high conviction alpha strategy.

Stock ideas are based on:

- Stocks where the current price doesn't reflect future prospects
- Companies expect to deliver future earnings growth above consensus over 3-5-year horizon
- Material environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors

Fund Manager Views

- As expected, global economy focus has shifted to evolving geopolitical tensions, the impact of policy changes and tariff implementation. We believe at this juncture; impact of the global events is highly unpredictable. Portfolio tilt is towards companies with higher dependence on domestic markets/consumers and expanding addressable market opportunities, could emerge as potential winners in the near future.
- Government measures like GST are expected to support consumption, though the exact demand segments remain unclear. The fund is focusing on stock-specific factors over macro trends.
- Indian economy remains resilient given the strong fundamental and macroeconomic factors. However, we see demand slowdown is broadening. While GDP, corporate top line and exports slowed in FY24, several capex-related and consumption-related pockets have softened in FY25. We believe that market is in consolidation phase and selected pockets in the market will perform well, and we have positioned the fund accordingly.
- The fund has a large cap bias, given the relative safety amidst the current market environment. The midcap allocation Favors companies with market leadership attributes and largely consumer facing business models. Given the elevated valuations, we have rotated positions across segments, currently we are OW on Retail, Hospitals and capital goods. We will remain in consolidation mode, based on earning growth profile.
- Given the concerns on geopolitical issues such as Middle East crisis, tariff, below trend pace of Global growth and mixed economic data, we remain at low exposure to global stocks.
