

Axis Value Fund

(An open-ended equity scheme following a value investment strategy)

What is value investing?

The simplistic definition

The lazy definition is that anyone who invests in low PE stocks is a value investor

Broad definition

Investors interested in buying stocks with low prices but promising prospects

Different faces of value investing

Passive Screeners

P/E, P/B, Dividend Yield

Contrarian
Investing

Stocks with strong negative over reactions

Activist
Investing

Investors looking to turn around poorly managed companies with potential

Axis Value Fund

(An open ended equity scheme following a value investment strategy)

What is value investing to us?

Diversifying beyond low PE stocks

Quality Companies trading below intrinsic value

- Companies with strong case of turnaround in ROE and cash flows driven by market share gain
- Trading below historical average multiples

Finding value in companies which has long term business potential

Strength of management measured by parameters like cash flow generation

- Ability to generate operating cash flow or free cash flow to equity in the weak investment cycle
- Boost in sector by government policies
- any regulatory change

Identify companies in turnaround phase

- companies which got de-rated because of bad cycle now on the verge of turnaround due to tailwind in the sector
- Any management change

Focus on the business risk rather than cheap valuation

- Emphasis on investing in undervalued stocks with a reasonable margin of safety

Core Fund philosophy

Valuations

- Look for companies trading at lower multiples in their industries
- Look for management turn around, sector dynamics shifts

Fundamentals Based

- Opportunity to advance ROE during cycles
- Potential for earnings growth in the long run
- Optimal levered
- Avoid highly levered companies within a sector or sectors
- Avoid value traps

Medium to Long term Focus

- Create wealth through multiples re rating and playing cycles

Integrated Risk Management

- Focus on portfolio Risk and its effective management

Strong Management

- Execution capability
- Good governance

Note: Current Portfolio Allocation is based on the prevailing market conditions and is subject to changes depending on the fund manager's view of the equity markets. For detailed investment strategy, please refer to the Scheme Information Document (SID)
