Fund Manager's Views

The fund remains constructive on India's domestic growth and investment cycle with a focus on companies with potential for earnings upgrades and positive surprises. Although opportunities are becoming more selective in the current market environment, Investment decisions continue to be driven by favourable risk-reward opportunities and bottom-up stock selection.

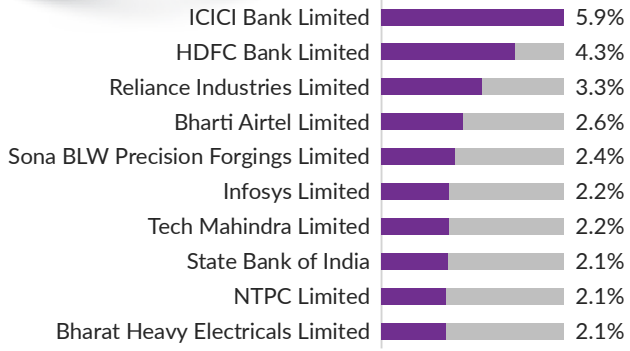

Key areas of preference include automobiles and the EV ecosystem, platform businesses, retail, hospitals, pharmaceutical CDMOs, and power-capex-linked industrials. The fund moderated exposure to Information Technology, select banking and capital goods names, reflecting a more selective approach. This provides flexibility to capitalise on opportunities that may emerge amid increasing dispersion in earnings and valuations across the market.

The fund invests across the market-cap spectrum and allocates capital where the balance between earnings and valuation appears most favourable. As of October 2026, the portfolio was positioned with 59% in Large Caps, 14% in Mid-Caps and 18% in Small Caps, taking advantage of the meaningful correction in the mid-cap space while selectively moderating exposure to parts of the small-cap universe.
