Fund Manager Views

- Small-cap funds is an attractive investment category as India progresses through its expansionary cycle into 2026. The growth outlook for India remains robust, driven increasingly by bottom up growth, where smaller companies are expected to benefit meaningfully.
- Manufacturing, as a structural theme, is expected to perform well. A growing number of manufacturing companies—either through IPOs or within niche segments has access primarily available through the small cap space. Several investable themes are largely represented within small caps for instance EMS, manufacturing, NBFCs etc.
- Fund has consolidated its holding in the core small cap space while increasing concentration and trimming tail positions.
- The Fund has reduced exposure to cyclical segments, while increasing exposure towards companies focusing on low discretionary consumption. Additionally, the fund has increased exposure to key themes such as Financials, Hospitals, EMS while reduced weight in Capital Markets and platforms.
- Select opportunities across Defence, Auto's, Industrials, Manufacturing and Financial names now offer more attractive entry points.
