Fund Manager Views

- ▶ Largecap valuations are no longer the primary concern, although certain pockets still carry elevated expectations.
- ▶ Valuations have adjusted meaningfully, improving the risk-reward balance across several parts of the market. The sharp correction has led to derating across large-cap as well as mid- and small-cap stocks, reducing some of the excesses that had built up over the past years. Accordingly, the valuations in large caps are lucrative on relative basis.
- ▶ Market expectations were anchored around a broad-based earnings recovery, with mid-teen EPS growth anticipated. However, evolving geopolitical situation has introduced new uncertainties. Companies with direct exposure to crude oil and energy costs are likely to face near-term margin pressures, while imported inflation could gradually affect a wider set of sectors, potentially weighing on consumption and profitability
- ▶ Fund historically has a tilt towards consumption theme with current exposure of more than 65%.
- ▶ The fund has an overweight in banks, aviation, telecom, hotels & hospitals . With underweight towards FMCG, IT, Metals, O&G, Utilities.
- ▶ The fund has reduced expensive high growth stocks and added to reasonable value UW segments
- ▶ We remained focused on identifying long term themes and opportunities currently at play in the equity markets. Fund will continuously evaluating & adding more exposure to growth at reasonable price, while being selective. The focus will be more on Lenders & Healthcare.
